23. Public Opening of Financial Proposals (for QCBS, FBS, and LCS methods)	23.1 After the technical evaluation is completed and the DP has issued its no objection (if applicable), the Client shall notify those Consultants whose Proposals were considered non-responsive to the RFP and TOR or did not meet the minimum qualifying technical score (and shall provide information relating to the Consultant's overall technical score) that their Financial Proposals will be returned unopened after completing the selection process and Contract signing. In case of discrepancy between (i) a partial amount (sub-total) and the total amount, or (ii) between the amount derived by multiplication of unit price with quantity and the total price, or (iii) between words and figures, the former will prevail. In case of discrepancy between the Technical and Financial Proposals in indicating quantities of input, the Technical Proposal prevails and the Client's evaluation committee shall correct the quantification indicated in the Financial Proposal so as to make it consistent with that indicated in the Technical Proposal, apply the relevant unit price included in the Financial Proposal to the corrected quantity, and correct the total Proposal cost.

Section 7. Terms of Reference

1. Introduction

1.1 Background

Land is one of the immovable prudent major resources, increasing population creates pressure to balance the carrying capacity of the land resource therefore, and its proper use is inevitable for food production, residential and other uses as well as for any development activities occurs on land to increase the access to the land for socio-economic development. Land is a unique resource limited in supply but endless in the variety of its uses. It is a basis of socio economic development of every country. For sustainable development of society, this resource should be wisely managed. Many countries around the world are nowadays paying their utmost attention to various land management issues for sustainable socio economic development and environmental management. One of the most effective and widely used land management instruments is to develop land use strategy from the long term perspective which will provide basis for controlling land use changes through the adoption of land use zoning and regulations.

Land use planning refers to the process by which a society, through its institutions, decides where, within its territory, different socioeconomic activities such as agriculture, housing, industry, recreation, and commerce should take place. This includes protecting well-defined areas from development due to environmental, cultural, historical, or similar reasons, and establishing provisions that control the nature of development activities. These controls determine features such as plot areas, their land consumption or surface ratio, their intensity or floor-area ratio, their density or units of that activity (or people) per hectare, the technical standards of the infrastructure and buildings that will serve them, and related parking allowances. All of these provisions should be included in the jurisdiction's land use or zoning code. This code becomes the legal guide for landowners, developers, citizens, and authorities.

Rapid increase of population and urbanization experiencing land management issues reached to critical stage at both national and local level in Nepal. The highly fertile agricultural land is going to urbanize unevenly around the fast growing urbanizing areas and market centers likewise along the transport corridors from east to west and south to north. In many places, agricultural lands have been left unused and abandoned. The available land is also not being used on its optimum level. Crop production is not in accordance with the suitability and capability of the land in many areas. Encroachment of public and forest land especially in the Terai areas have resulted in haphazard and uncontrolled growth of squatter settlements contributing to the declining level of the ecological balance. Similarly widely scattered unplanned and haphazard subdivision of fertile agriculture land as building plots in areas adjacent to major and minor road network in most terrain districts is taking place everywhere also indicate that there is no control mechanism or instrument to regulate such activities. In many places, especially in the hilly and mountainous land, uncontrolled and rampant human activities have contributed to the accelerated pace of natural disasters such as landslides and flooding. Consequently, Nepal is subjected to serious threat of facing problems related to food security and hunger in future. Similarly, unplanned settlement and unhealthy habitat, lack of basic infrastructure and services, natural disaster, and environmental degradation are other serious challenges already faced by the country. If these issues and problems are not addressed in time, it may invite a major disaster for the country from the perspective of food security and hunger, health risks due to environmental degradation and other unforeseen natural calamities.

Nepal being a developing nation, massive urban land has been encroached as slums and real estate market has been well flourished since last 2 decades specifically in large municipalities and fringe areas. Almost all economic activities in these areas depend on lands and so is the pivotal for economic development. There has been existed unsystematic and unhealthy real estate business in the absence of effective land use planning and zoning. The utility services are also very poor in the developmental areas due to lack of updated planning and monitoring. All these facts have resulted serious problems on settlement pattern and has deteriorated the urban-rural environment. The state being the guardian, it needs to pay serious attention to face, overcome and tackle the ever-growing problem.

Land use is one of the priority sectors of Government of Nepal (GoN) which can be visualized from the different official documents. Most of these documents have mentioned on short term policies and in some cases it succeeded with partial implementation of the policy as well. To address the land use sector, the eighth fifth year plan first time has identified a long term program. The ninth fifth year plan has focused for sustainable development of land and natural resources for preservation and extension of ecological sectors (Ninth Plan, 1998). This plan has identified the need of the formulation of land use plan based on the land form, climate, soil etc. as well as in agricultural production, environment preservation and other facilities, sectoral development and increase the public awareness on importance and role of land use plan. In the same way, the tenth fifth year plan focused to the formulation and activation of land use policy to discourage the use of arable land to other non-agricultural purposes and creation of national geographic information database related with land resource maps. However, it is necessary to devise a proper land based planned land use map to correlate in the actual ground. In this context, the superimposed of cadastral maps on the land use zoning maps are necessary for implementing the land use policy. Intimate relationship of human civilization with land has been the content of world history. Land has always played very crucial and important role in the social, economic, cultural and political life of people and the nations. It is the land which has preserved the proof of human achievement and failure. But never in the history of mankind has land been such a crucial issue as today. The land issue has developed in the context of explosive urbanization that has taken place as a result of mankind's great achievement in the fields of science and technology (Chhetri, 1986). It has become now clear that land has become a scarce resource that must be wisely and carefully allocated if the environment of man is to be improved.

Land use planning should be a decision – making process that “facilitates the allocation of land to the uses that provide the greatest sustainable benefits”. It is based on the socio-economic conditions and expected developments of the population in and around a natural land unit. These are matched through a multiple goal analysis and assessment of the intrinsic value of the various environmental and natural resources of the land units. In the simplest planning situation, that of new land settlement land units can be allocated to specific uses. Settlers are then brought in, and at least initially, required to practice those uses (GTZ, 1995). Decisions on land allocation or land use recommendation for completing uses begin with a set of policy guidelines, for example – a minimum acceptable production of staple foods and fuel wood, the preferred location within range of existing services and a limited amount of development capital. Sometimes, it is helped to set out the options in a goals achievement matrix and rank them according to chosen criteria. For the increasingly complex tasks of selecting sites for development projects, allocating land among several land uses, development policies on land use as well as allocating resources, hundreds of individual land units and many alternative land uses may have to be considered.

The decision-maker must take into account a variety of practical considerations, including-

- a. The expressed preference of the local people
- b. The interest of minority group
- c. Mitigation of national policies
- d. Some constraints such as land tenure, availability of source of data as inputs
- e. The maintenance of environmental standards
- f. Practicability for its potential implementing agencies
- g. Costs and the availability of funding.

1.2 Rationale

Chief Administrative Officer

Local level is responsible for land use planning and its implementation. So, land use zoning is carried out on particular areas of land – what shall be done, where and when, and who will be responsible. It requires detail basic information about the land, the people and services at local level. However, Nepal has only regional level data base on land use, land system and land capability which were produced by Land Resource Mapping Project (LRMP, 1986). Realizing this fact, the Ministry of Land Reform and Management of Government of Nepal established the National Land Use Project (NLUP) in 2057/058 fiscal year to generate the necessary data bases on the land resources of the country.

The study is based on following conceptual framework:

- a. Classification of the land into Agricultural area, Residential area, Commercial area, Industrial area, Mining and Mineral area, Cultural and Archaeological area, River, Lake and Water bodies area, Excavation area, Forest area, Public Use area and Others as per necessity as mentioned in the National Land Use Policy 2072 of the Government of Nepal.
- b. Identifying and demarcating areas for potential residential, commercial, industrial and public use to support sustainable urban development
- c. Identifying and classifying agricultural land into comparatively advantageous sub areas on the basis of quality of land, suitability and capability of land to increase the productivity
- d. Preservation and conservation of natural resources including forests, shrubs, rivers and rivulets and swampy lands for environmental protection

1.3 Objectives of the Study

The main objective of the study is:

To update land use zoning maps, GIS database of Municipality (Rural Municipality)

The specific objectives of this study are:

- a. To update land use map of Municipality on the basis of existing land use by using available data sources in GIS.
- b. To prepare appropriate GIS database of existing land use.
- c. To prepare land use zoning map clearly showing different zones and sub-zones in accordance with the Government's Land Use Policy 2079.
- d. To prepare detailed report containing conceptual basis and methodology, criteria of land use zoning, distribution of different land use zones and data models of GIS database.

1.4 Scope of Work

The scope of this project work is as follows:

- a. Collect all the basic and foundational information from Municipality, NLUP or DUDBC
- b. Collect/Download the geometric rectification of satellite image.
- c. Perform necessary rectification of the given satellite image
- d. Perform field work to collected relevant land use information.
- e. Populate the given database with the extracted features.

- g. Prepare present land use maps as per different specified hierarchical levels for the selected Municipality.
- h. Discuss the accuracy, reliability and consistencies of data.
- i. Prepare reports describing methodology, existing land use pattern and model of GIS data base.

In order to achieve the above mentioned objective, the study team shall carryout the following activities:

- a. Study of the existing relevant maps, documents, and database of the project area
- b. Preparation of existing land use map of Nagarpalika/Gaupalika in appropriate scale

Chief Administrative Officer

- c. Preparation of land use zoning maps of the Gaupalika/Gaupalika at appropriate scale based on existing land use and field survey with clear demarcation of different zones and sub-zones as per the Government's Land Use Policy 2072
- d. Designing appropriate GIS database logically on land use zoning for the selected Palika
- e. Assuring accuracy, reliability and consistency of data
- f. Preparation of detailed reports, describing methodology, criteria and distribution of different land use zones and sub-zones with GIS data models and databases.

2. Brief Methodology

3.1 Brief Methodology for present land use classification:

The consultant should review all the relevant maps of the project area including LRMP maps,

- Topographical map sheets and documents prepared by the Survey Department of Nepal as well as relevant products prepared by other agencies.
- The Municipality present land use maps should be prepared from rectified enhanced high resolution satellite images.
- The level 1 categories of the land use should be such as Agricultural, Residential, Commercial, Industrial, Forest, Public Use etc. (as per NLUP). The fundamental classes should be as per land act 2021 (sixth amendment). However, sub levels should be populated as per requirement of the data model and ground truth.
- The smallest mapping unit for delineation of land use categories should be of 0.25 hectare.
- The interpretation and feature extraction in terms of different land use units should be validated through enough ground truths collected from extensive fieldwork as well as through accuracy assessment matrix. The accuracy of each class as well as overall accuracy should not be less than ninety percent.
- The map layout and legends should be as according to the standard of map/data model.

- b) A rule based Multi Criteria Evaluation (MCE) methodology should be developed for optimum use of land resources of the municipality under the following broad land use zones: Agricultural area, Residential area, Commercial area, Industrial area, Forest area, Public use area etc. as mandated by Land Act 2021 (Sixth amendment). Corresponding subdivisions for each zone type must be as per the data model.
- c) The proposal and final report must describe these issues relating how these issues may be addressed in the proposed study area.
- d) The MCE criteria should be guided by the environmental friendly perspective and as far as possible, proper care should be maintained to preserve forest areas, protection of food crop producing areas, conserving eco-system and biodiversity and providing unproductive areas for settlement.

1. Part II includes standard Contract forms for Consulting Services (a Lump-Sum Contract).
2. Lump-Sum Contract: This type of contract is used mainly for assignments in which the scope and the duration of the Services and the required output of the Consultant are clearly defined. Payments are linked to outputs (deliverables) such as reports, drawings, bill of quantities, bidding documents, or software programs. Lump-sum contracts are easier to administer because they operate on the principle of a fixed price for a fixed scope, and payments are due on clearly specified outputs and milestones. Nevertheless, quality control of the Consultant's outputs by the Client is paramount.
